HEALING PRAYER

"Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits, who forgives all your iniquity, who heals all your diseases"—Psalm 103:2-3.

Today we approach the Throne of Your Grace, merciful, kind, compassionate Lord, in the Name of Your precious Son, Jesus Christ, for a healing miracle for whoever is seeing this prayer and is sick for family, friends, acquaintances who are sick at home, asylum, or at a hospital.

Jesus, You said to us, "All things are possible for one who believes"(Mark 9:23). We believe Lord, that you are Lord, and that You don't change (Malachi 3:6). Your healing power and great love for us is present today. You Lord, heal "the brokenhearted and binds up their wounds"(Psalm 147:3).

Heal our souls Jesus, cleanse us from every sin and unrighteousness. We confess and repent of our sins, and believe that You are Lord that if we confess our sins, You are faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness"(1John: 1:9).

Heal our hearts, and give us a heart like yours: Loving, humble, meek, and compassionate, obedient to the Father in every circumstance: "Father, if You are willing, take this cup away from Me—nevertheless, not My will, but Yours, be done" (Luke 22:42).

Heal our thoughts, make them white as the snow, wash our hearts in your precious blood, and give us a desire for your Kingdom and Your Word. Give us your Holy Spirit to convict us of our sins (John 16:8), and to "help us in our weakness" (Romans 8:26).

We ask You Lord to heal our bodies:"If you will, You can make me clean"(Mark 1:40). We know that the same "Spirit of Him who raised up Christ from the dead will also give life to our mortal bodies through His Spirit who dwells in us"(Romans 8:11).

Thank you Lord, because we know You heard our prayer and will deliver us (Psalm 32:7, according to Your will in our lives. For Thine is the kingdom, and the Power, and the Glory forever, Amen!(Matthew 6:13).

8 BIBLE VERSES FOR TIRED MOMS

MATTHEW 11:28-30
"Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light."

HEBREWS 6:10
"God is not unjust: He will not forget your work and the love you have shown Him as you have helped His people and continue to help them."

MARK 6:31
"Come with Me by yourselves to a quiet place and get some rest."

PSALM 4:8
"In peace I will lie down and sleep, for you alone, Lord, make me dwell in safety."

EXODUS 23:14
"The Lord replied, 'My Presence will go with you, and I will give you rest.'"

PHILIPPIANS 4:6-7
"Do not be anxious about anything, but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. And the peace of God, which transcends all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus."

PSALM 46:30
"He says, 'Be still, and know that I am God; I will be exalted among the nations; I will be exalted in the earth.'"

ISAIAH 40:31
"But those who hope in the LORD will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary, they will walk and not be faint."

Jewish sick prayer.

We thank God for creating us as human beings and as Jews, and for the simple things in life, such as our senses, our bodies, and our freedom. I renounce Satan, the evil spirits and all their works, Mary, My Mother, Queen of Peace, St. Peregrine, the cancer saint, all the Angels and Saints, please help me. I give you my entire self, Lord Jesus, now and forever. These include honoring parents, acts of kindness, spending time in Jewish institutions, and again, studying Torah.Following that is a short prayer called Elohai Neshama, which praises God for creating humanity and for helping each person maintain his or her spirit and spirituality. I invite you into my life, Jesus. לְעוֹלָה מְמִי, וְלִנְחִימָהּ בִּי לְעוֹלָה לְבָא. Finally, Korbanot, a selection of biblical and Talmudic passages that explain how the service in the Temple operated, is read. Because of their focus on animal sacrifice in the Temple many liberal prayer books do not print them at all.The last passage in this section is a talmudic source that explains the 13 interpretive principles that Rabbi Ishmael used to explain the verses of the Bible. For these reasons and others, many Jews wash their hands promptly after getting out of bed, pouring water from a cup over their hands either two or three times in succession. May the Lord shine His countenance for you and be gracious to you. Blessed are You, Hashem, Who heals all flesh and does wondrous things.The Elohai Neshama blessing should immediately follow the Asher Yatzar blessingתְּשַׁחֲטֵנִי בִּי בְּחַיִּים וְשָׁמַח בִּי בְּחַיִּים. Heal me, change me, strengthen me in body, soul, and spirit. Prayer © 1993 Peter M. Pronounced: SIDD-ur or seeDORE, Origin: Hebrew, prayerbook. It is obvious and know Your throne of glory that if any one of them were closed or if one of any one them were opened, it would be impossible to exist for even an hour [i.e., a short while]. In your Name, I forgive all others for what they have done against me. Rookey and Servite Fathers, O.S.M. More Prayers Daily Reflections לשוֹחֵשׁ וּמַפְלִיא בְּכֶסֶד וּמִסְלָא בְּרַחֲמֵי אֱלֹהֵינוּ.Blessed are You, Hashem, our God, King of the Universe, Who form wisdom and created many openings and cavities within him. Blessed are You, Hashem, Who restores souls to dead bodies.The full text for the remaining liturgy discussed in this article can be found here.Thanks for the TorahThe blessings over Torah study constitute the next major section of the morning prayers. I shall follow you every day of my life. Furthermore, we testify that God looks over the Jewish people, "provides Israel with strength," and "crowns Israel with glory."This includes three blessings which have been a source of controversy. Comprised of the Mishnah and the Gemara, it contains the opinions of thousands of rabbis from different periods in Jewish history. I love you Lord Jesus. אֲנִי אֶפְשָׁר לְהִתְקַדֵּשׁ אִילוּ אֵין אֵת. An additional blessing sake.Fittingly, these prayers are followed by passages from the Torah and the Talmud in order to fulfill the previous blessing of studying. You created it, You formed it, You breathed it into me, and You preserve it within me. תְּשַׁחֲטֵנִי בְּחַיִּים וְשָׁמַח בְּחַיִּים. My God, the soul that you placed within me is pure. Jewish law mandates that one pray three times a day, in the morning, afternoon, and at night. me with your Precious Blood, and fill me with your Holy Spirit. These blessings thank God for giving the Torah to the Jewish people. Included in this is the priestly prayer for peace, taken from Numbers 6:24-26 ("May the Lord bless you and protect you. The morning service, Shachrit, formally begins with the Pesukei D'zimrah (verses of praise) section, but before that there are several preliminary prayers and blessings to thank God for providing us with our daily needs and for performing everyday miracles.Modeh AniTraditionally, Jews begin each day with Modeh Ani, a short, two-line prayer which opens by referring to God as the eternal and living King. Say this prayer faithfully, no matter how you feel. When you come to the point where you sincerely mean each word with all your heart, Jesus will change your whole life in a very special way. The prayer speaks of sleeping as a minor type of death in which the soul leaves the body to spend the night with God. You will see. The blessing ends with a testimony that God "heals all flesh and does wonders. "While all of the prayers mentioned so far are traditionally said as part of the normal waking cycle, they-and the prayers that follow-are also often recited by individuals at synagogue as the beginning of the Shaharit service.Asher Yatzar text (Courtesy of Sefaria)תְּשַׁחֲטֵנִי בְּחַיִּים וְשָׁמַח בְּחַיִּים, וְכֵן אֶת הַנֶּאֱמָר בְּמִסְכָּה, וְכֵן אֶת הַנֶּאֱמָר בְּמִסְכָּה, וְכֵן אֶת הַנֶּאֱמָר בְּמִסְכָּה, וְכֵן אֶת הַנֶּאֱמָר בְּמִסְכָּה. אֲשֶׁר יְצָר אֶת הָאָדָם בְּטָהֳלָה מִלֵּךְ וּמִנָּחָה, וְכֵן אֶת הַנֶּאֱמָר בְּמִסְכָּה, וְכֵן אֶת הַנֶּאֱמָר בְּמִסְכָּה. The prayer thanks God for returning the soul to the body, enabling the individual to live another day.This prayer is generally said when one first awakes, while still in bed. Pronounced: TORE-uh, Origin: Hebrew, the Fiv Hebrew, the set of teachings and commentaries on the Torah that form the basis for Jewish law. This section of prayer ends with a quote from the Talmud (Shabbat 127a) that lists commandments for which one is rewarded both in this world and the world to come. For this reason, God's proper name ("Adonai") is not used, since the rabbis deemed it improper to speak God's name before ritually washing the hands.Indeed, because people are unaware of their actions during sleep, it is possible that they touched something during the night that would make their hands ritually unclean. I thank you Jesus. May the Lord lift up His favor upon you and grant you peace.").Next up is a mishnah (Peah 1:1) that recounts a group of commandments that are perennial and limitless, namely charity, acts of kindness, and Torah study: וְכֵן אֶת הַנֶּאֱמָר בְּמִסְכָּה, וְכֵן אֶת הַנֶּאֱמָר בְּמִסְכָּה, וְכֵן אֶת הַנֶּאֱמָר בְּמִסְכָּה, וְכֵן אֶת הַנֶּאֱמָר בְּמִסְכָּה. It is the spiritual equivalent to the physically oriented Asher Yatzar blessing. I accept you as my Lord, God and Savior. Traditional congregations end with a short prayer for the rebuilding of the Temple, and with that, the first major part of Shachrit, the Pesukei D'Zimrah, is ready to begin. The Conservative movement replaces the blessing al creating me as a free person" and for the second, uses a prayer from the Talmud, thanking God "for creating me an Israelite."Dating back to the 14th century Orthodox liturgy dictates that men thank God "for not creating me a woman," while women recite "for creating me according to Your will." The Conservative movement replaces this for both men and women by thanking God "for creating me in Your image."Generally, congregants say the blessings to themselves and respond "Amen" as the service leader reads them aloud.The Binding of IsaacFollowing Birkhot Hashachar, the story of the binding of Isaac (Genesis 22:1-19) is read to remind God of what Jews throughout history have been willing to do for the sake of heaven.הַנֶּאֱמָר בְּמִסְכָּה, וְכֵן אֶת הַנֶּאֱמָר בְּמִסְכָּה, וְכֵן אֶת הַנֶּאֱמָר בְּמִסְכָּה, וְכֵן אֶת הַנֶּאֱמָר בְּמִסְכָּה. The prayer ends by testifying to God's control Now Let Us Join TogetherAt this point in the service, many traditional congregations begin praying together, starting with Birkhot Hashachar, a list of blessings thanking God for fulfilling our basic needs.These blessings praise God for giving intelligence and understanding and providing a world in which to live. The prayer thanks God for creating us completely, with all of our body parts in working order. And in the future, You will take it from me and restore it in the Time to Come. When waking up from sleep, before washing hands, one should say: Out of Bed and Straight to Prayer: Asher YatzarAfter washing, a blessing is traditionally made, followed by a recitation of verses praising God's name. Amen. All the time that this soul is within me, I am thankful before You, Hashem, my God and the God of my fathers, Ruler of all creation, Lord of all the souls. Empower your Jewish discovery, daily Lord Jesus, I come before you, just as I am, I am sorry for my sins, I repent of my sins, please forgive me. Although these passages can be found in most traditional prayer books, reading them has become less common. Although modern denominations have adapted different sets of prayers, most versions start with a line from Psalms 111, "Fear of God is the beginning of wisdom" (111:10), reminding the newly-awakened Jew of the importance of God.Following these verses in the siddur (prayerbook) is Asher Yatzar, a prayer normally recited after going to the restroom. Orthodox liturgy includes two blessings thanking God for not creating us as slaves or as gentiles. I praise you Jesus.
